IN THE CANADIAN ROCKIES

JASPER PARK LODGE

WHEN man is faced with the task of providing facilities whereby others may enjoy Nature's magnificence in an area of great natural beauty such as Jasper National Park in the very heart of the Canadian Rockies, he may choose either of two alternatives. He may design and erect a towering pile of Norman or Gothic architecture, splendid in its symmetry and its old-world design. Or he may give careful thought to the aesthetic tastes as well as to the physical needs of those for whose comfort and enjoyment he plans. With this in mind he may design a building or a series of buildings which become an integral part of their immediate surroundings, enhancing the magnificent settings rather than introducing something foreign which conflicts with them.

The designers of Jasper Park Lodge chose to stress this harmonious note. They had at their disposal the broad valley of the Athabaska, surrounded by magnificent peaks rising to more than 10,000 feet in altitude. The site selected was on the shore of beautiful Lac Beauvert, whose clear waters mirror their surroundings. Here was designed and constructed a series of Alpine chalets, grouped about a single-storied main lodge. Blending the rustic and the artistic, building walls, beams and rafters of peeled and varnished logs, the builders accomplished something that is of the mountains from its foundations of natural boulders to its highest roof-tree. They completed an ensemble which never fails to evoke expressions of delight from those who visit Jasper Park Lodge.

Within the main building, with its administrative quarters and public rooms, and in the surrounding guest lodges, they installed all the conveniences and provided all the comforts of the modern hotel. For Jasper Park Lodge is a modern hotel in all its appointments. It provides the vacationist with all of the services and niceties to which he is accustomed, or for which he yearns on those occasions when he decides that "this vacation will be different—worth while".

From its excellent cuisine to its deftness of service, its spirit of hospitality and homelike atmosphere, Jasper Park Lodge is "different". Its guest lodges are laid out to suit family groups and large or small parties.

The following pages tell the pictorial story of what awaits the visitor at Jasper Park Lodge. In addition there is comfort and relaxation and enjoyment of Nature at her best, made accessible and enjoyable through the provision, in the heart of this playground of a nation, of Jasper Park Lodge, a true gem in a magnificent setting.

A jewel in its magnificent setting, Jasper Park Lodge nestles on the shore of beautiful Lac Beauvert, with Roche Bonhomme, "The Old Man of the Rockies," on constant guard.

Following the pleasant undulations of a verdant valley, surrounded by massive peaks, Jasper Park Lodge golf course provides a challenge for the champion—and pleasurable golf for the not-so-great. In length and layout it is of championship calibre, but its designers remembered those who play for recreation. Here, each season, the Jasper Park Lodge Totem Pole Tournament is held, when the best shots in a golfer's bag decide ownership of the Silver Totem Pole and other prized trophies.

A well-appointed golf clubhouse, with spacious verandahs which overlook the starting tee, the practice fairway and putting green.

Time-worn glaciers of the vast Columbia Icefield (left), and the mystic Angel Glacier of Mount Edith Cavell lure those who would sample scenic feasts from modern automobile and highway.

Mecca alike of sportsmen and of beauty lovers, Maligne, largest glacial lake in Canada's Rockies, unfolds at the end of hike or combined motor and saddle trip.

To see the Rockies from a saddle is the ambition of many a Jasper Park Lodge guest. Sturdy, sure-footed mountain ponies carry the vacationist to joys and adventure, near or far.

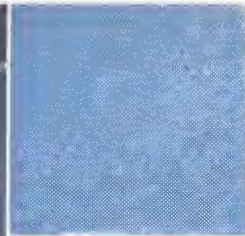

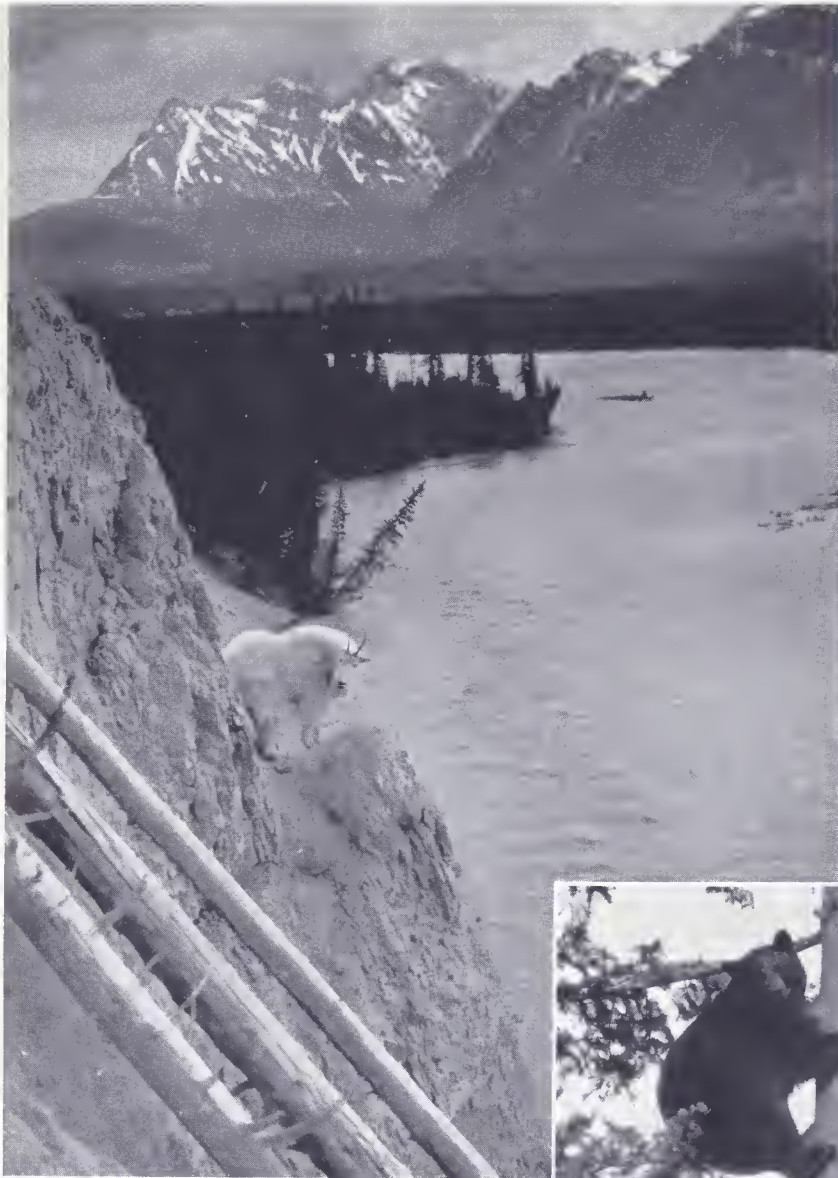

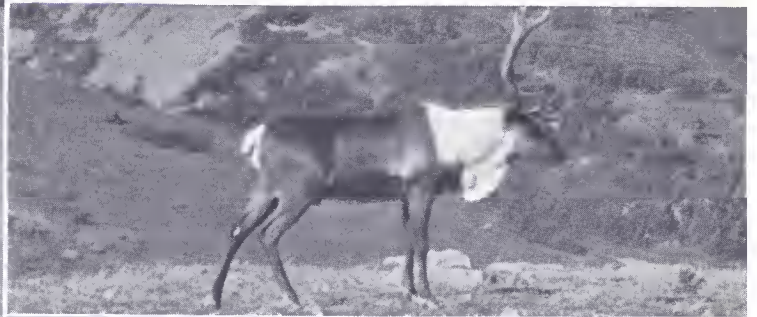

Speckled Trout in the Maligne Lake watershed, Kamloops Trout in Tonquin Valley waters, and Rainbow Trout in other lakes and streams offer a variety of piscatorial thrills to the disciple of Izaak Walton. Generous bag limits — free fishing permit.

In Jasper National Park, the world's largest game sanctuary, wild life, unafraid, poses for the camera-hunter at every turn of path and highway.
